Policy Summary

The Prevent Policy of Camphill Wakefield outlines the institution's commitment to providing a safe and nurturing environment by complying with the Government's Prevent strategy. This policy, aligned with the safeguarding procedures, aims to protect students and staff from the risks of extremism and radicalisation. The policy includes strategies for early intervention, promoting British values, staff training, and collaboration with external agencies to ensure a cohesive approach to preventing extremist activities.

1. Purpose of the Policy

This Policy is to be used in conjunction with the Camphill's Safeguarding Policy and Procedures, and is in response to the Government's PREVENT Strategy. Camphill Wakefield is committed to providing a safe and nurturing environment for all students. This policy forms part of that commitment and sets out our approach to compliance with statutory guidance on Prevent, safeguarding children and vulnerable adults.

This policy MUST be considered in conjunction with our Positive Behaviours Policies & Procedures and existing policies that address bullying, harassment, equality, diversity and inclusion, health & safety and related issues.

Camphill recognises that a safe and nurturing environment is a key factor in the successful delivery of high-quality learning and teaching.

Our students share the same risk of becoming victims, or perpetrators, of extremism and radicalisation; we will take all reasonable steps to minimise that risk and to provide effective support to our students.

2. Context

Prevent is one strand of the Government's Counter Terrorist Strategy "Contest" which includes four strands:

- Protect – To strengthen protection against a terrorist attack.
- Prepare – To mitigate the impact of a terrorist attack.
- Pursue – To stop terrorist attacks.
- Prevent – Prevent people becoming terrorists or supporting terrorism.

As well as supporting the above strategy Camphill Wakefield also takes steps to ensure that all students and staff are aware of the dangers of extremism and are able to protect themselves or seek support to ensure they are safe

Early intervention is at the heart of “Prevent” in diverting people away from being drawn into terrorist or extreme activity. “Prevent” happens before any criminal activity takes place. It is about recognising, supporting and protecting people who might be susceptible to extremist views and radicalisation.

3. The Prevent Strategy has three significant objectives:

- Ideology - Respond to the ideological challenge of terrorism and aspects of extremism, and the threat we face from those who promote these views.
- Individuals - Provide practical help to prevent people from being drawn into terrorism or extremism and ensure they are given appropriate advice and support.
- Institutions - Work with a wide range of sectors where there are risks of radicalisation which needs to be addressed, including education, criminal justice, faith, charities, the internet and health.
- Channel is a key element of the “Prevent” strategy and is a multi-agency approach to protect people at risk from extremism and radicalisation. Channel uses existing collaboration between local authorities, statutory partners (such as the education and health sectors, social services, children’s and youth services and offender management services), the police and the local community to
 - Identify individuals at risk of being drawn into extremism or terrorism.
 - Assess the nature and extent of that risk.
 - Develop the most appropriate support plan for the individuals concerned

Channel is about safeguarding children and adults from being drawn into committing extremist or terrorist-related activity. It is about early intervention to protect and divert people away from the risk they face before illegality occurs. It is important to note that Prevent is about risks of extremism from all groups and sectors of society.
